In many traditions and mythologies, these three worlds correspond to the different realms of Self. The Upper World is the home of Spirit, the Underworld the home of Souls, and the Middle World is the home of the physical body and human ego. Different practices and techniques are used in each of the three realms to help us spiritually mature and rediscover joy, peace and wholeness.

I'm not sure it's exactly the same concept, but John Holbo termed this thing – the two-step of terrific triviality – here. I'm sure – the motte-and-bailey doctrine – is a better term to promote for actual use, since it sounds serious and important, while it's hard to say – the two-step of terrific triviality – with a straight face.
